IN 4.1.3 In addition to complying with the criteria agreed by Lancaster University Senate, all awards offered by Lancaster University and programmes delivered by Lancaster University International Study Centre are aligned with the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications in England, Wales and Northern Ireland published by the QAA as well as the National Credit Framework, which aligns UK qualifications with European qualifications.

IN 4.2 STRUCTURE OF PROGRAMMES

IN 4.2.1 International Foundation Certificate. Lancaster University International Study Centre students can register on an International Foundation Certificate as a 9 or 12 month target award. The International Foundation Certificate comprises learning at level 3 with 120 credits of assessment. Students cannot switch from one duration to another.

IN 4.3 CRITERIA FOR AWARD

IN 4.3.1 The pass mark for a module is 40.0% with the credit for a module being awarded when the overall mark for the module is 40.0% or greater.

IN 4.3.2 For both INTO0001 English for Academic Purposes (EAP) for Undergraduate Studies and INTO3003 EAP for Postgraduate Studies modules, all assessment elements within the module are compulsory and need to be passed at 40.0% or above in order to pass the module and be awarded the credit for it.

IN 4.3.3 In order to qualify for the overall award, students must have attained in full the credit requirement for the programme and achieved an overall aggregation score of at least 40.0% in the modules that are counted towards the overall aggregation score. Additionally, students must have demonstrated that they have met all Programme Learning Outcomes as set out in the Programme Handbook and on the relevant Curriculum map.

- IN 4.3.4 The overall aggregation score is the overall mean computed from the module aggregation scores of the modules that are counted towards the overall aggregation score in proportion with the approved credit weightings for each module. This overall mean score will be expressed to one decimal place.

International Foundation Certificate – 9 month, 120 credits programme

- IN 4.3.5 For the award of International Foundation Certificate, students on the 9 month programme are required to have achieved 120 credits at level 3:

- the overall aggregation score is taken from the 90 credits of academic modules and the pass mark for the award from the 90 credits is 40.0%
- students also study one of either INTO0001 EAP for Undergraduate Studies or INTO0002 EAP with Research Project which will not count towards the overall aggregation score but which must be passed at 40.0% or above

International Graduate Diploma - 6 month, 90 credit programme with IELTS under 6.5 on entry

- IN 4.3.7 For the award of International Graduate Diploma, students on the 6 month, 90 credit programme with IELTS under 6.5 on entry are required to have achieved 90 credits at level 6:

IN 4.4 CONFIRMATION OF AWARDS

IN 4.4.1 Each programme will have final award criteria detailed and approved through the programme approval process. Boards of Examiners will determine whether a student has successfully met the final award criteria giving full countenance to exceptional circumstances as reported from the Exceptional Circumstances Committee and reassessment opportunities as detailed below.

IN 4.4.4 Academic judgement does not constitute grounds for appeal; however, students who wish to challenge the process may do so under the procedures for Academic Appeals.

IN 4.5 REASSESSMENT

IN 4.5.1 A student who fails a module will be required to undertake a reassessment for that module in order to be considered for the award. If the module percentage score after reassessment is an improvement on the original score, the reassessment score will count; otherwise the original percentage score will stand. The reassessment score will not be subject to a cap. The resulting percentage score will count towards the consideration for award – see 4.3.

IN 4.5.2 In the case of the EAP modules INTO0001 and INTO3003, a student who fails an element or elements(s), even if their overall module percentage mark is 40.0% or above, must undertake a reassessment for the failed element(s) in order to be considered for the award. If the element and module percentage score after reassessment are an improvement on the original score, the reassessment score will count; otherwise the original percentage scores will stand. The reassessment scores will not be subject to a cap. The resulting percentage score will contribute towards the consideration for award – see 4.3.

IN 4.5.3 A student who has passed a module may undertake a reassessment to improve their mark for that module. If the module percentage score after reassessment is an improvement on the original score, the reassessment score will count; otherwise the original percentage score will stand. The reassessment score will not be subject to a cap.

IN 4.5.4 The precise form of reassessment is for Lancaster University International Study Centre to decide, but the following principles should be borne in mind:

- (a) the purpose of reassessment is to re-examine the learning objectives which have been failed at the first attempt;
- (b) students who have failed all elements of assessment at the first attempt should not be advantaged over those who have failed only a part of the assessment.

IN 4.5.5 Students will normally be given the opportunity to undertake reassessment within the same academic year in which they made their first attempt.

IN 4.5.6 When all the results of reassessment are available the overall profile will then be considered following procedures detailed below in the section on the consideration and confirmation of results.

IN 4.6 INCOMPLETE ASSESSMENT AND EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES

IN 4.6.1 Incomplete assessment and exceptional circumstances are covered by the Lancaster University International Study Centre Exceptional Circumstances Policy. Circumstances which may have a minor impact on a student's ability to complete an assessment in the designated timeframe can be managed through the granting of short (typically up to 5 days) extensions without prejudice.

IN 4.7 CONSIDERATION AND CONFIRMATION OF RESULTS

IN 4.7.1 Senate has ultimate authority to determine all results of assessment leading to Lancaster University credit and awards. It exercises its authority to make final decisions as to granting of all credit-bearing University awards, primarily through the Committee of Senate with non-standard cases considered and recommended by the Classification and Assessment Review Board.

IN 4.7.2 The Committee of Senate provides:

- (a) formal confirmation (or not) of recommendations from Boards of Examiners for the conferral to individual students of a named award (i.e. qualification and subject);
- (b) formal approval of recommendations from Boards of Examiners that students be conferred no award with or without a further re-sit opportunity (i.e. Fails).

Further procedural details are set out in the General Regulations for Assessment and Award.

IN 4.7.3 For each programme delivered by Lancaster University International Study Centre there will be an Examination Board comprising external and internal examiners which will be responsible for the assurance of standards through the exercise of their academic judgement both directly in the assessment of students' work and indirectly in the design of specific forms of assessment. The constitution and terms of reference for examination bodies within the constituent elements of the University are set out in the section on examination boards in the General Regulations for Assessment & Award.

IN 4.7.4 The examination bodies will receive decisions from the Lancaster University International Study Centre Exceptional Circumstances Committee. Examination bodies cannot, of themselves, reconsider or change decisions of the Exceptional Circumstances Committee. Examination bodies may challenge decisions of Exceptional Circumstances Committees by referring final decisions to the Committee of Senate via the Classification and Assessment Review Board, or equivalent body.

IN 4.7.5 Boards of Examiners for Lancaster University International Study Centre programmes will consider the results of examinations and final marks and make recommendations to the Committee of Senate with non-standard cases referred for consideration and recommendation via the Classification and Assessment Review Board as to the conferral of awards within the approved programme documentation. Details of the role and operation of Boards of Examiners can be found in the section on examination boards in the General Regulations for Assessment & Award.

IN 4.7.6 The business of the examination boards will be minuted and the minutes will include a record of the External Examiner's adjudications, comments and recommendations, as well as particular decisions made by the Board. The minutes will also record the decisions of the Exceptional Circumstances Committee for each candidate considered by that committee (although detailed discussion of circumstances should not be undertaken at the Examination Board). The minutes must include a list of attendees (together with their status as external or internal examiners or assessor). This record of the proceedings of the board will be restricted and made available only to: the participating examiners and assessors; the Vice-Chancellor and other officers of the University as appropriate; the Committee of Senate and the Classification and Assessment Review Board; and appropriate Academic Appeal and Review Panels as defined in the chapter on Academic Appeals.

IN 4.8 PUBLISHED INFORMATION

IN 4.8.1 The determination of results of University awards are subject always to ratification by the Committee of Senate and will be regarded as provisional until ratified.

IN 4.8.2 Immediately after the meetings of the relevant examining bodies, Lancaster University International Study Centre may notify students of their provisional results.

IN 4.8.3 Within forty days of the ratification of awards, students will be sent a transcript of their results, which will conform in scope and layout to principles agreed by Senate.

IN 4.9 EXCLUSION

IN 4.9.1 Students who, after undertaking agreed reassessment opportunities, fail to meet the stipulated criteria for award will be excluded from the University. Students are entitled to appeal against exclusion under Lancaster University International Study Centre's Academic Appeals procedures.

IN 5 MARP CHAPTER: ACADEMIC INTEGRITY REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURES

IN 5.1 The entire MARP Academic Integrity Regulations and Procedures chapter is set aside and replaced by the Lancaster University International Study Centre Academic Integrity Regulations and Procedures.

IN 5.2 Where a student who has progressed onto a degree at Lancaster University has been found to have committed an academic offence following the retrospective detection of academic malpractice on a Lancaster University International Study Centre award, Lancaster University reserves the right to refer such cases to the Standing Academic Committee with a recommendation that they be excluded from the university.

IN 6 MARP CHAPTER: ACADEMIC APPEALS

- IN 6.1 The entire MARP Academic Appeals chapter is set aside and replaced by the Lancaster University International Study Centre Academic Appeals Regulations and Procedures.

SPEAKING MARKING CRITERIA - EAP FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES AND EAP FOR POSTGRADUATE STUDIES

Speaking Assessment – Seminar Discussion – Marking Descriptors

	Task Achievement	Language Content	Fluency and Coherence	Language Articulation	Contribution and Interaction
70% and above IELTS 7.0-8.0	Addresses the topic fully, with original and detailed arguments expressed convincingly. Uses evidence very well, evaluating and synthesising information effectively.	Outstanding use of a range of language to express self clearly, including topic-specific language Shows a very high degree of accuracy; errors are rare and very difficult to spot.	Expresses self fluently and naturally, with no noticeable effort. Produces very clear, smoothly flowing, excellently structured speech, showing outstanding control of organisational patterns, connectors and cohesive devices.	Articulates virtually all the sounds of the target language and can be understood without any difficulty. Varies intonation and places sentence stress with a high degree of accuracy to express precisely what they mean to say	Makes an excellent contribution to the discussion, skillfully supporting opinions with explanations and relevant examples. Very skillfully includes other speakers, giving feedback on and following up on statements and inferences and so help the development of the discussion
60% IELTS 6.5	Addresses the topic at some length, with detailed arguments expressed convincingly. Uses evidence well, demonstrating an ability to evaluate and synthesise information.	Uses a broad range of language to express self clearly, including topic-specific language Shows a high degree of accuracy; errors are rare and difficult to spot.	Expresses self fluently and spontaneously, almost effortlessly. Only conceptual difficulty hinders a natural, smooth flow of language. Produces clear, smoothly flowing, well-structured speech, showing controlled use of organisational patterns, connectors and cohesive devices.	Articulates most of the sounds of the target language. Some features of L1 accent may be noticeable, but this does not affect intelligibility at all. Varies intonation and places sentence stress mostly correctly in order to express precisely what they mean to say.	Makes a very good contribution to the discussion, complete with clear explanations. Relates own contribution skillfully to those of other speakers, giving feedback on and following up on statements and inferences and helping the development of the discussion
50% IELTS 6.0	Demonstrates good understanding of the key concepts that are relevant to the topic; clear arguments are made. Uses evidence, demonstrating an ability to evaluate and synthesise information.	Uses a range of language appropriate to the task, including some topic-specific language. Shows a relatively high degree of accuracy; makes occasional errors, but without hindering communication.	Communicates fluently and spontaneously, even when talking at length about complex subjects. Uses a variety of linking words efficiently to mark clearly the relationships between ideas.	L1 accent has minimal effect on intelligibility; is easy to understand throughout. Stress and intonation is used to support the message they intend to convey, though there are some influences from L1 that make sounds less clear.	Makes a good contribution to the discussion, explaining points well. Gives feedback on and follows upon the statements of others to help the development of the discussion.
40% IELTS 5.5	Demonstrates some understanding of the key concepts that are relevant to the topic; related arguments are made. Uses some evidence, demonstrating some ability to analyse and/or evaluate information.	Uses an adequate range of language to be able to express viewpoints and develop arguments. Some attempt to use topic-specific/ academic language. Shows a good level of accuracy; errors rarely lead to misunderstanding.	Communicates fluently although can be hesitant and there are noticeable pauses. Uses a limited number of cohesive devices to link ideas.	Can generally be understood throughout, though mispronunciation of individual words or sounds reduces clarity at times. Stress and intonation are acceptable but may require some careful listening.	Makes some contribution to the discussion, with some explanation. Helps the discussion along by confirming comprehension and inviting others in.
30% IELTS 5.0	Demonstrates basic knowledge and attempt made to relate knowledge to the discussion. Evidence may be limited or of limited reliability. Very little analysis of information and arguments attempted.	Uses a sufficient, but limited range of language, minimally appropriate for the task. Makes noticeable errors, but it is clear what they are trying to express.	Expresses self relatively easily and keeps going, despite occasional pauses to plan and correct speech. May speak slowly or be halted by hesitancy. Forms longer sentences and link them together using a limited number of cohesive devices.	Pronunciation is intelligible even if L1 influence is strong and occasional mispronunciations occur. Can approximate intonation and stress at both utterance and word levels.	Gives only brief explanations of opinions. Exploits a basic repertoire of language and strategies to help keep the discussion going.

LU International Study Centre – approved variations to MARP and assessment regulations 2025-26

20% IELTS 4.0	Demonstrates very little or no understanding of the main concepts that are relevant to the discussion. No or very limited evidence used. Little or no analysis of information and arguments.	Uses basic language appropriate for the task, which may be used repetitively or inappropriately. May have noticeable influences from L1. Makes frequent errors which cause some confusion.	Keeps going, but sometimes has to pause to plan and correct what is being said. May be frequent repetition and self-correction. Links sentences but repetitive use of connectors and some breakdowns in coherence.	Generally intelligible throughout, despite regular mispronunciation of individual sounds and words they are less familiar with. Stress and intonation patterns may be unnatural but are intelligible.	Attempts to contribute but is not always successful. Can add basic points to discussion and can turn take.
10% and below IELTS 3.0	Does not offer anything related to the discussion. There is no evidence of academic content. No analysis or evaluation attempted.	Uses only a limited range of language; meaning is often compromised. Uses some simple structures correctly, but still systematically makes basic mistakes.	Can be understood in very short utterances, but pauses, false starts and reformulation is very evident. Has limited ability to link sentences, is frequently unable to convey basic message.	Speech is often unintelligible or requires great effort from the listener to understand. Strong influence of L1 on stress and intonation affects intelligibility.	Presents opinions in simple terms, but requires patience from listeners. Indicates when they are following the discussion.

APPENDIX 2: LATE PENALTIES FOR ASSESSED WORK

1. Work submitted up to three days late without an agreed extension will receive a penalty. Saturdays and Sundays are included as days in this regulation; however, where the third day falls on a Saturday or Sunday, students will have until 10.00 a.m. on Monday to hand in without receiving further penalty. Where the application of a late submission penalty results in a Fail mark, the assessment will be treated according to the standard procedures for failed work.
2. For work assessed using percentages, marks between 50% and 69% will be reduced by ten percentage points for example a mark of 62% would become 52%). Other marks will be reduced according to the following table.

Original Mark	Mark after penalty
87-100	68
74-86	65
70-73	62
40-49	31
31-39	18
18-30	9

APPENDIX 3: GUIDANCE FOR SCALING OF MARKS

1. All assessments and marking schemes should be created with the aim of ensuring that the resulting marks give a good indication of the ability and application of the students. However, it is inevitable that on occasion this will not work as planned.
2. Reasons may include a misprinted assessment, the interruption of an assessment or, in a science laboratory, an instrumental malfunction not obvious at the time of the experiment; or it may simply be that examiners agree, using their academic judgment and with the benefit of hindsight, that an assessment, or part of an assessment, proved to be significantly harder or easier than expected.
3. In such cases it is appropriate to consider whether the marks should be scaled. Scaling may be of the overall mark for the module or of any assessment therein.
4. Although an unusual distribution of marks is not of itself a sufficient reason for scaling to be applied, it may be an indication that something has gone wrong. For this reason, if the overall mean aggregation score for any module lies outside the range 55% to 66.7% then examiners must consider whether or not there is a case for the marks to be scaled.
5. Where the possibility of scaling is being discussed, the precise method should also be discussed and should reflect both the nature of the assessment and the size of the cohort. Both the reason for scaling and the method used must be justified within the minutes of the examining body. If scaling is discussed and not used, the reason for not scaling must be recorded in the minutes. In all cases both the original and the scaled marks must be permanently recorded.
6. Where scaling is applied for the same module for at least part of its assessment on more than one occasion, the assessment practices of the module must be reviewed as appropriate.
7. Scaling may take any form as long as it preserves the ordering of students' marks; thus, for example, if Student A has a higher unscaled mark than Student B, then Student A's scaled mark must not be lower than that of Student B. Common examples of scaling methods are given below, but other methods are possible.
 - (a) Every mark may be multiplied by a constant factor, or have a constant value added to or subtracted from it, or a combination of the two.
 - (b) As in (a) above, except that where marks are being reduced no pass is turned into a fail (thus, for example, where marks are in general being reduced by 10%, for an undergraduate module or assessment, all unscaled marks between 40% and 49% become scaled marks of 40%).
 - (c) Piecewise linear interpolation may be used, where each mark is plotted for each student against his or her average mark on other assessments, as in the graphs below.
